Foreword

We, the staff of the Tawasenthan, are proud to present this 1958 yearbook to you. We sincerely hope that as you glance through its pages in years to come you will be reminded of the wonderful, carefree days of your high school life.

We have tried to show you in the beautiful color pictures the wide variety of scenes and places in the Empire State. No matter where you may travel in this country, you will not see more beautiful, nor more abundant tourist attractions. As you seniors leave Guilderland for the last time, to be scattered throughout the world remember our state and its influence on our school and your life.

Dedication

We feel that this is an ideal time to pause and lift up our hearts and minds to our Creator, and give thanks for the many blessings bestowed upon us. Religion is both personal and universal, therefore the symbol representing your god may be the crucified Christ of the Catholics, the glorified Christ of the Episcopalians, the golden cross of some protestant sects, or the Star of David of the Hebrews.

Though we take no positive steps in any one direction we certainly do not condone religious indifference. We recognize that one religion is not the same as another because wide personal conflict precludes such a condition. We do feel however, that we entertain the right to suggest that each look into his own soul and rededicate himself and his efforts in his quest for eternal truth.

It is with these philosophic thoughts that we, the staff of the 1958 edition of the Tawasenthan, dedicate our yearbook to our God.

Principal's Message

New fields of adventure will open to high school graduates this year. Many will go on to college to prepare for careers in a space age. Others will begin jobs in industries now planning space-bound equipment. Still other graduates will be supplying the clerical and secretarial aid necessary to support space age enterprises.

Unexplored space is waiting for you on this earth also. You have learned your first lessons well. You know the alphabet of life. Now you must learn to build your own words, sentences and paragraphs. The meaning of your life must become known to you. Only you can find this meaning. We have given you the fundamentals for your exploration into yourself. Now you must decide what it all means.

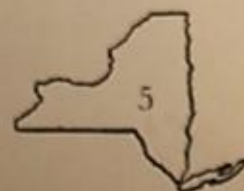

Unexpired areas in human relations will provide a challenge for many of you, for though man has entered space, he cannot get along peaceably with those close to him. War and the threat of war consumes billions of dollars of the earth's wealth each year. Carelessness and neglect take an overwhelming toll of the world's productive capacity. New areas of human understanding must be developed. This year's graduates may be able to teach people how to get along with one another.

New space to explore, new fields to conquer, new challenges to respond to and new horizons to reach for are yours as you face a new phase of your life. Some of you have achieved outstanding results in your four years at Guilderland Central High School. To you we offer our congratulations and our sincere wish that you continue to excel in your new tasks. To those who have not achieved as they would have liked to, other chances will be given, for life continuously presents opportunities for a new start.

Your diploma signifies that you have successfully reached one plateau in your life. You have climbed high enough so that your vision from this plateau will show you where you have been. You now have an opportunity to look back and evaluate what you have done to arrive here. Your vantage point can also give you a better view of the road ahead. The future is yours. We hope you make the most of it.

Mrs. Crounse proofreads her work.

Miss Plant does double duty.

Albany, capital of the Empire State, is the "Cradle of American Union," for in this city, at the meeting of the Congress of 1754, Benjamin Franklin first proposed federal union.

Visitors in Albany usually include three prominent buildings on Capital Hill in their sightseeing. The attractions in the CAPITOL include the "million dollar staircase," the Executive Chamber, the Senate and Assembly Chambers and the Flag Room. From the observation platform at the top of the GOVERNOR ALFRED E. SMITH OFFICE BUILDING, visitors get a bird's eye view of the Albany area. The STATE EDUCATION BUILDING with its State Museum, is adjacent.

In the same way as the legislature guides the people of the state, the faculty and administrators of our school ably direct us in our school life. We are, indeed, grateful to them for the guidance throughout this school year.

Manhattan plays a role in world affairs out of all proportion to its size. The combination of historical background, population, financial and cultural eminence makes New York the goal of businessman and vacationist alike. City residents take for granted things at which visitors marvel — the subways, skyscrapers, museums, art galleries, nightclubs, theatres.

As the big city serves as a powerful influence on the smaller cities and villages throughout our state, the seniors serve and influence the underclassmen.

Remember the clubs back in old '54?
There were Home Ec., Dramatics, and even Outdoor.
The track team was started; we had a good band;
Lizzy and Gerrit came to visit our land.
The noon hour was great; we sure got around
After school selling magazines. Did we cover ground!

As sophomores, biology kept us quite busy,
Those green frogs and bugs put the girls in a tizzy.
Then after lab, to lunch we all flew
Where the more energetic sold baked goods to you.
Mr. Ciacchio, in history sure gave us a line;
He told us about Hitler's "crossing the Rhine".

The Juniors all thought the Cit. Ed. conference swell;
At Columbia's Press Conference our school did quite well.
Our classes were crowded and more rooms were needed,
Both in halls and "in storerooms" the students were seated.
The highlight of this year was "Mood Indigo"
Our king and sweet queen reigned in spite of the snow!

The senior year brought Inge-Lise to G. C.
She had a good time as was plain to see.
Girl's Sceptre, Boy's Key Club and N. H. S. too
Were busily working the entire year through.
After the Senior Ball came graduation,
Then sadly we parted in deep contemplation.

The US Military Academy at West Point, founded in 1802, trains officers for the US Army. High on a hill dominating the 15,000 acre reservation is the Cadet Chapel. Other points of interest include Battle Monument on Trophy Point, the Plain where parades are held, the Academy Museum, the library, restored Fort Putnam, Michie Stadium and many other buildings and monuments.

West Point, college for some of our finest men, teaches many young men to find their way in this complicated space-minded world. Guilderland in the same respect is preparing us for our trip into the future.

Saratoga Springs' popular tracks attract thousands of vacationists during the racing season. World-famed health resort and racing center. Gideon Putnam built the first inn in 1802, and Saratoga Springs soon became known as the nation's finest summer spa.

Opening day at the Saratoga track is the outstanding social event of the summer season. It is a symbol for fun and relaxation for tourists in New York state. So in our own small section of this vast state we enjoy our leisure time through the social events sponsored by the various school and community activities.

Inge Lise Neilsen

*Inge-Lise Neilsen
by Gail Strom*

Guilderland is one of many schools in the United States which participates in the American Field Service Student Exchange Program. This program is designed to acquaint students with the lives and customs of people in other lands, thus promoting international understanding and good will.

This year the exchange student, Inge-Lise Neilsen, is from Denmark. The story of how she was chosen to come to the United States is an interesting one:

"In Denmark students are acquainted with the A. F. S. program through the newspapers. Those who are interested send an application to the headquarters in Copenhagen. Students then receive a number of papers which must be filled out. This year, 800 applied and 100 were chosen in a screening of the applications. The final 100 were questioned carefully to learn their knowledge of history and the English language, in private interviews. Inge was chosen as one of the 56 students from Denmark to go to the U. S. A."

The students from Denmark met at Copenhagen August fifth, where they joined the pupils from Scandinavia. The group then proceeded to Holland by train. Some of them went to the U. S. by plane but a great number, including Inge, started on the ocean voyage on the ship "Arosa Sky." There were more than enough activities to keep the students busy on board. In addition to the different groups for scouts, dancers, painters, etc. there was a swimming pool, a tennis court, and a beauty parlor. Every night there was a dance. During the day students would gather in groups and discuss with A. F. S. officers, life in America. Many questions on American schools and teenagers were brought up and answered. During the course of the voyage 200 of the 876 aboard were taken ill with the Asiatic flu. One student, a boy from Greece, died.

After being detained in the New York harbor for over a week, the ship docked and the anxious students tried to hurry through customs—an impossible feat as they later found out. The group stayed for several days at the Hotel New Yorker and then headed each toward his different destination. Inge arrived in Albany to live with Joan Clark on August 15.

A monument in memory of the men who gave their lives for the shipwrecked sailors.

A port from the harbor

Typical Danish farm.

In an interview with Inge she explained that Danish schools are quite different from those in the United States. Students in Denmark must attend school six days a week for six hours each day. They take 16 different subjects each year. These subjects include, Danish literature, Danish composition, German, English literature, English composition, geography, biology, physics, arithmetic, math, sewing, cooking, drawing, painting and gym. Danish students wear whatever they like to school—the girls wear slacks. When school is dismissed the students have nothing more to do with school until the next day. There are no clubs or activities associated with the school. There are in each city, however, places where girls can go to learn sewing and boys, woodworking after school. There is a Y. W. C. A. fellowship meeting each week. If there is nothing else to do Danes go to the movies, go bicycling, swimming, ice skating or they listen to the radio. People in Denmark read much more than do the Americans.

During Inge's first week or two in America she was amazed by many things. When teenagers told her to eat corn on the cob she thought it was a joke. And who ever heard of eating raw vegetables? Carrots, celery, lettuce—everything is cooked in Denmark.

When asked her first impression of rock 'n roll Inge said, "I thought it was crazy!"

Her opinions on many "new" attractions have been altered in the past year. Inge was both surprised and pleased to see the many conveniences we have in school. There are no cafeterias, gyms, or home economics rooms in the average Danish High school—in fact there are not even refrigerators in the kitchens.

Inge was quite impressed with the large buildings and skyscrapers in New York City. She likes America very much and hopes to visit the U. S. A. again some day.

A yearbook carries memories of bygone days, a link with happiness past, but few realize the effort put into its publication. The Staff of the 1958 Tawasenthan has been working diligently since last fall, and only with the combined efforts of the music, art, sports, activities, and literary sections were they able to give you the finished product of the Tawasenthan.

Section Heads worked long and hard in judging material, typing, editing, setting up layouts and seeing that all material was submitted well in advance of the deadline.

RONALD SANDS by Gail Strom

Last year Guilderlands exchange student for the American Field Services Summer Program was Ronald Sands. He was chosen by the A.F.S. from a selection of four candidates nominated by the school.

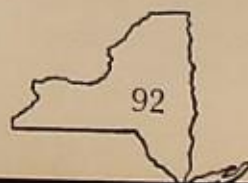

On Thursday, June 20, 1957, Ron began his trip by bus to Montreal, Canada. Students from all over the United States met and stayed at the Windsor Hotel, there. At 10:30 A.M. the next day, Ron and two friends he had met from Texas went down to the boat. The "Arosa Kulm" sailed for Holland at 2:00 P.M. There were 750 students aboard the ship. Each day there were language classes, panel discussions, clubs, movies, and dances. When twelve days had passed the ship arrived in Rotterdam, Holland. July second the students who were to live in Germany took a train to Dusseldorf where they spent the night. Later Ron went on to Karlsruhe to live with the Kohler family. Ron felt quite at home with his three brothers, Gerold, 18, Wolfgang, 14, and Landolt, 11. Mr. Kohler is a teacher of history so Ron went to school with the Germans for several weeks at the beginning of his stay. He attended classes in English, Cit. Ed., math, and Latin.

There were three other American boys living near Karlsruhe. Ron and these boys often went sight seeing together. A favorite pastime of theirs was visiting the army P-X near-by. On the base they could buy various articles or attend the movies. The boys discovered that the main part of Karlsruhe had been greatly damaged by the bombs during World War II. There was a vacant lot every seven or eight houses. The town was, last summer, being rapidly rebuilt.

Karlsruhe is a unique city in that it is built around a castle, the center of attraction for tourists. All roads lead from the castle making a fan arrangement. It is therefore called "Die Fächerstadt"—the fan city. Ron and his German "brothers" often took bicycle trips since bicycling is the main method of transportation in Germany. At one time during his stay in Karlsruhe, Ron went on a bus trip through the Black Forest to Baden - Baden. This town is several miles from a resort where Chancellor Adenauer spends his vacations.

Main Corner in Hiedelberg

At the end of July Ron went to the town of Schrieshiem just outside the city of Heidelberg. Here he spent the rest of the summer with the Scharf family. In this family there were two girls and two boys ranging in age from 15 to 21. While in Schrieshiem Ron went on a three day bicycle trip with two of his friends. They traveled along the Neckar River and spent their nights at youth hostels. Students can sleep at these hostels for fifteen cents a night. One night the beds were quite uncomfortable so the boys dropped down to a haystack below their window and slept there for the night. They toured the Black Forest and returned home several days later.

During the third week in August there was a grand "castle lighting." The castle, which is on a hill, overlooks the Neckar River. Every year the people shoot fireworks and pinwheels. This celebration is a great event in Heidelberg and is an outstanding source of attraction for tourists.

In the last part of August Ron left Heidelberg for Bremen. At Bremen the 250 students who had been living in Germany met and stayed at a refugee camp near the town. While in Bremen the American students were invited to a dinner at the city hall. There was a special dish prepared just for the students as they were the guests of honor.

On August 31 the students took a train to Bremerhaven where they boarded a boat on the English Channel. After two days on the Channel the boat picked up the remaining American students at Rotterdam and the "Arosa Kulm" began its ten day journey to Canada. The ship docked at Quebec Monday, September ninth. The group then split up and Ron, with some of his friends, went to Montreal where he waited for the bus which was to bring him back to Albany.

Ron brought with him several souvenirs from Germany. The German people specialize in leather and steel goods and make them of a superior quality.

Senior National Honor Society

The Senior Honor Society recognizes those students who demonstrate high standards in high school life; both in scholarship and in extra-curricular activities. The Society is made up of students from the Junior and Senior classes. Their most famous project has been to bring the Foreign Student, through the help of the American Field Service, to G. C. H. S. In order to raise money, the Society sponsors the Foreign Student Dance. This year's dance was a big success; everyone that attended had a good time. The honored guest at this dance was of course "Inga Lisa" our foreign student from Sweden.

The Club meets every Wednesday in the auditorium. The main project this year is to have the sophomore, junior and senior classes put on a play in competition with one another. The Dramatics Club plans to put on a big play in the spring namely "Around the World In 80 Days". Anyone interested in the play may try out.

Dramatics Club

The club is not only for those students interested in acting but also for pupils who help with the curtains, scenery, etc. Mr. O'Brien is in charge of this section.

Dick Karnow was D I-now guess where he's from.

The Art Club exists for those pupils who are interested in art, but don't have the opportunity to take art as a subject. There are four teachers who take the group for eight weeks apiece. The members make jewelry, paint and do wood sculpturing. Some of the jewelry they make is sold and the profits contribute to buying art supplies.

Leadership Club

The membership of this club consists of the varsity letter winners for athletics of the Guilderland Central School. Club members set a high standard for leadership in athletics and school activities. They officiate at intramural games and sponsor awards for the senior members of the club. A big event that everyone looks forward to is the Annual Faculty-Student Game.

Citizens of the Week

It is with the idea of giving more credit where it is due that the Citizen-of-the-Week Award has been set up. A citizenship award sterling silver pin and a certificate of merit are awarded to the candidate chosen by the award committee as being most deserving. Nominations for the award are presented by any member of the Guild-erland Central High School staff, by any student, or by any person in the community being served by the high school. All nominations must be signed by a responsible adult. The nomination form merely states the candidate's name and reason for his being selected as a candidate.

Sophomore Student Returns; Conquers Prolonged Illness.

Ed Sill, sophomore student who is gradually recovering from a lengthy illness, has returned to G.C.H.S. to continue his studies. The Tawasenthan takes pleasure in welcoming him back to the student body.

On October 20, 1956, Ed was stricken by a disabling disease, paralytic polio. News of his misfortune caused concern for him throughout the school.

During his five-month stay at the hospital Ed received daily treatments. A warm bath designed to alleviate pain and loosen the muscles was followed by "stretching" of leg muscles. In paralytic polio the area stricken is almost entirely mechanically destroyed, so different muscles never used before must be developed. This developing process or procedure takes much time.

As soon as he was strong enough, Ed began taking exercises to accomplish his goal—that of walking again. Together with braces and the parallel bars he gained his sense of balance through hours of effort.

Ed usually spent his time watching television or writing letters. Then during visiting hours, seven to eight, many of his friends came to visit him. On certain days the patients were allowed to have visitors from two to four o'clock in the afternoon. Ed greatly enjoyed the portable television set given to him by his classmates.

For a half year, Ed went to the hospital school in Schenectady. Every morning the nurses would wheel his bed to the "school room". There the students were taught by one teacher who had had to instruct 20 different subjects. Ed took biology, English, social studies and algebra. The only subject omitted from his regular curriculum was Spanish—the teacher didn't teach languages. There was one pertinent comment which Ed had on the subject of attending this school. Before he had started classes, there had been only a half-day of school. Shortly after he joined the classes a full-day schedule was begun. Ed didn't "think that was very nice". It seemed as if the hospital had extended the school day just for him.

During the Christmas holidays many parties were held at the hospital. Several bands came and played for the patients. The highlight of the festivities was a demonstration and party given by the firemen from Schenectady. They brought their equipment, including fire trucks, to the hospital and showed the younger children especially, a good time.

An additional novelty for the patients was a monthly visit by a group of barbers. Each month the barbers came to the hospital and gave the boys haircuts. Pictures which were taken were used for publicity by these barbers.

Early in March, Ed was permitted to go home. He has returned to the hospital several times a week since then for additional exercise and observation.

Lately, Ed can be found at the canteen Friday nights. He goes out with his friends and "does almost everything now". Ed's favorite pastime is that of helping his buddies work on their cars.

Sceptre Service Club

The Sceptre Service Club is a service organization made up of sophomore, junior and senior girls and is comparable to the boy's Key Club. Membership is based on a percentage of the number of girls in each class. The major project has been the "Mountain of Pennies Drive" for The Scholarship Fund. The girls are called upon for ushering with the Guidance Department in a survey of high school graduates, to evaluate the High School curriculum.

A candidate for Citizen of the Week is chosen at every meeting. The most recent project has been in cooperation with the Key Club to work out a program of domestic student exchange.

Gail Strom

Rhythm drills and intricate trills,

Gail Strom, a senior at Guilderland, accompanies the senior boys chorus, and the senior choir. This is the third year she has been an accompanist for choruses. Since she came to Guilderland as a sophomore in 1955 she has accompanied most of the choral groups in both the junior and senior high. She plays the piano very well. This is due to practice, she will tell you. Her wonderful personality makes her very popular with the student body.

Choir

The High School Choir is a selective group formed this year to afford opportunity for singers to become acquainted with outstanding compositions from all periods of musical practice, ranging from sixteenth century polyphonic music and portions of works like "Messiah" to contemporary works. Selection is made on the basis of voice, quality, and the ability to read music.

Eyebrows raised — esteemed frills.

Richard G. Wagner has taught at Guilderland Central High School since 1952. He first directed the bands. Now he is the senior high choral director and head of the music department. Under his direction are the senior boys chorus, senior mixed chorus, senior choir, ensembles, and theory classes. His deep interest in music has aroused students interest. He is a hard-worker who has not lost his sense of humor. This fact has endeared him to many students.

Fancy tunes and songs just plain,

Robert Parr came to Guilderland Central High School in September 1957. Although a new teacher, he is well liked by the students. He directs the junior high boys chorus, the Freshmen chorus and has junior high music classes. He is ready and willing to do anything for the benefit of the choruses. When his face flashes a smile you know he has accomplished what he set out to do. The choruses reflect his smile.

Robert Parr

Performed to perfection— Miss Chamberlain.

Miss Betty Lou Chamberlain, a new teacher at Guilderland Central High School in September 1957, teaches junior high music classes. The junior high girls chorus, senior high girls chorus, and girls ensembles are under her direction. She also accompanies the senior high mixed chorus. Her willingness to sacrifice for the choruses is greatly appreciated by the girls.

Barbershop Quartet

The Boys Quartet is a new group formed at Guilderland this year. The group is under the direction of Mr. Wagner. We haven't heard them sing in public yet but they will do a fine job because they certainly have worked hard to make their group one of the best.

Freshmen Chorus

The ninth grade chorus is a new organization. It was formed with the idea of giving ninth graders an opportunity to perform in a mixed chorus before going on to the high school organizations. The chorus is not a select group—any ninth grader wishing to join may do so.

Mr. Milton Wolven

Milton J. Wolven began teaching at Guilderland Central High School in September 1956. He is director of the junior band, senior band, and instrumental ensembles. He gives music lessons on the average of five periods a day. Band members very much appreciate his help and interest. His charming personality has done much to keep up the morale of the instrumental students.

Brass Ensemble

The big round sound, the full tone, the right blend, the braves create a truly wondrous musical effect.

Special thanks to the Woodwind ensemble for its work during National Education Week. With a little addition of materials a full program will be forthcoming in the very near future.

One of the most difficult jobs of any music teacher is to direct the orchestra. With strings constantly getting out of tune, a real job is in store for her. Not only is directing the orchestra very difficult, but initiating one is the job Miss Virginia Farmer had to do. As a former member of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, under Dmitri Mitropoulos, Miss Farmer can certainly be classified as a musician of the highest caliber.

Miss Virginia Farmer

The counties that border New York State's south boundary have traditionally been called the Southern Tier. It is rolling country of hills and valleys devoted to fertile farms and thriving industrial cities. The Continental Army broke the strength of the Iroquois during the American Revolution in this area.

Football

Our football team, playing under an "independent" status for the third year in succession since we started the 11-man game, ran into a number of obstacles in compiling a 1-3 ledger in the fall of 1957. A successful campaign on the part of "Mr. Asiatic Flu", prevented our "eleven" from playing two games. Thus our season was shortened to four contests. "The Giant from Asia", also, kept many of our boys from practice sessions which hindered our playing ability.

Despite the seasonal record, Coach Fred Field will certainly miss six Senior veterans who performed ably for him last fall. They include Dirck Westervelt, Ed Cox, Warren Clement, Melvin Wells, Ron Johnston, and Jerry Coogan.

The scoring feats and razzle-dazzle play of Frank Bess showed out throughout the 1957-'58 Varsity basketball season. Amassing close to 300 points for the campaign, Frank broke our school record for the most points scored in a single game with 34 in an Albany Academy clash.

Our quintet finished the season just below .500 in the percentage of games won and lost. Coach Art Hudson used three juniors (Bess, Pat Gleason, and Dick Brunk), one Sophomore (Dave Sebast), and two seniors (Cliff Yaun and Al Halstead) for the most part, throughout the season.

The squad played under an "independent" status this year after leaving the Central Hudson Valley League at the close of 1956-'57 season. We played such teams as Niskayuna, Bethlehem, and Lansingburgh for the first time on a basketball court.

Eight juniors constituted the Varsity Football and Basketball cheerleaders this year. All of the eight with the exception of just one, had had previous experience prior to this year. All with the exception of not one, was good-looking energetic "yell-girl!"

The following members of the squad had had previous experience with the Jay-Vees: Margit Kaasa, Joanne Ford, Sue Wheeler, Sandy Morey, Linda Thorsen, and Linda Peters. Sandy Schermerhorn "yelled" for the first time this past winter.

The girl's practice, the "Zipper Cheer".

Joanne Ford was the '57-'58 captain with Linda Thorsen serving as co-captain.

As well as cheering at the games, the girls were the "main attraction" at all of our pep rallies.

Miss Stevens is their faculty adviser.

Coach "Jack" Ryan, our JayVee basketball mentor enjoyed another successful season at the helm of the Red and White juniors hoopsters. Teaching a new "crop" of players the fundamentals of the game, he molded a quintet which finished above the .500 percentage in games won and lost.

Mickey Meyl and Jim McClelland were the team's leading scorers. Near the close of the season, Meyl was promoted to the varsity. McClelland finished with upwards of 125 points for the season. He attained a very high percentage from the foul line throughout the season.

Paul DeLaMater, Steve Ferguson, Jon Briggs, and Denny Borst played regularly in the 18 games on the schedule.

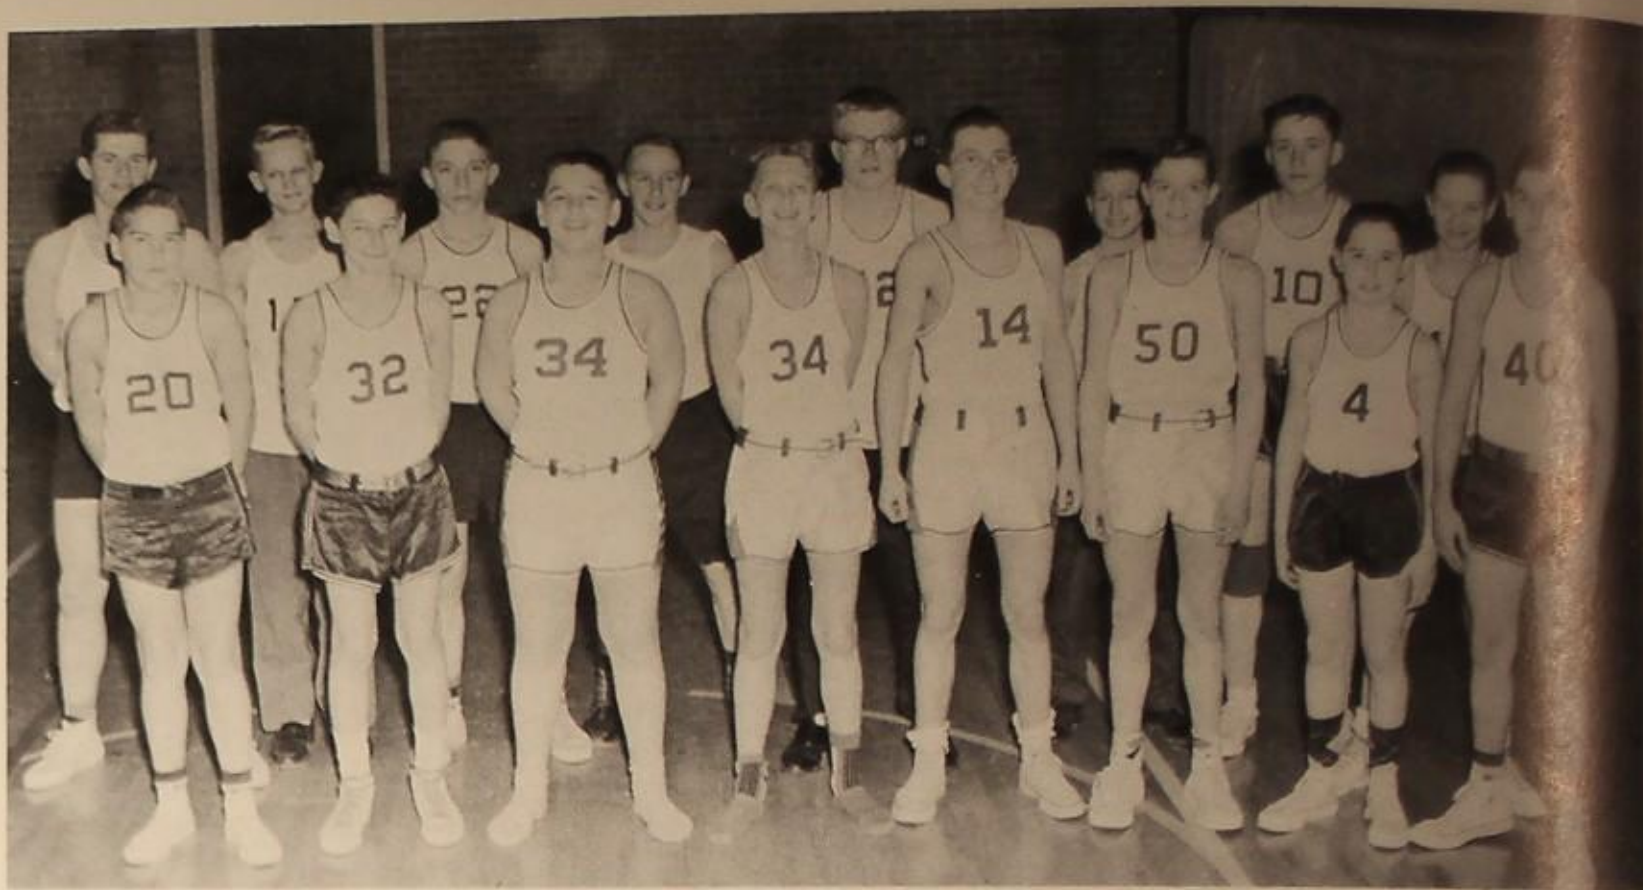

Those last minute instructions from Coach Ryan.

A schedule of 14 games constituted the slate of GCHS's third Freshmen basketball season. The frosh were directed by coach Murray Gerber, new to Guilderland Central High this year.

Though the team lost more games than they won, all players involved gained valuable experience for the future. This is, of course, the principle intention behind Freshmen and JayVee teams. Among those boys who were improved according to Gerber were: Jon McClelland, Dick Gould, Denny Thomas, Al Lasher, Bob Clark, and Carl Sands. Lasher and Clark were the team's leading scorers.

Jump shot by Bob Clark nets 2 points.

Each Tuesday during the winter months, nearly 60 students from our student body "fled" at the beginning of the Activity Period to the Turnpike Alleys to participate in that popular form of entertainment known as bowling.

They bowled as members of the "Guilderland Central Co-Ed Bowling League". Our league was a member of a national group, the "Junior National Bowling League".

Mr. Kopeza and Mrs. Curthoys of the Physical Education department acted as league supervisors. The duo's aide-de-camp, as they will testify was Sandra Brunk, who served in the doubled capacity of league secretary and statistician!

John Diederich and Betsy Fisher led the boys and girls' divisions respectively much of the year in total pins and highest single game averages.

It's no place for weaklings when the girls go into their tumbling act.

Gym

In Girls' Gym we started off the year with field hockey, soccer and archery. We continued on with badminton, volleyball and basketball. Anxiously awaited was tumbling, apparatus and dancing. We wrapped up the year with softball.

Numerous activities occupied the boys in their gym classes this year.

At the beginning of the school year, touch football and soccer were played outside.

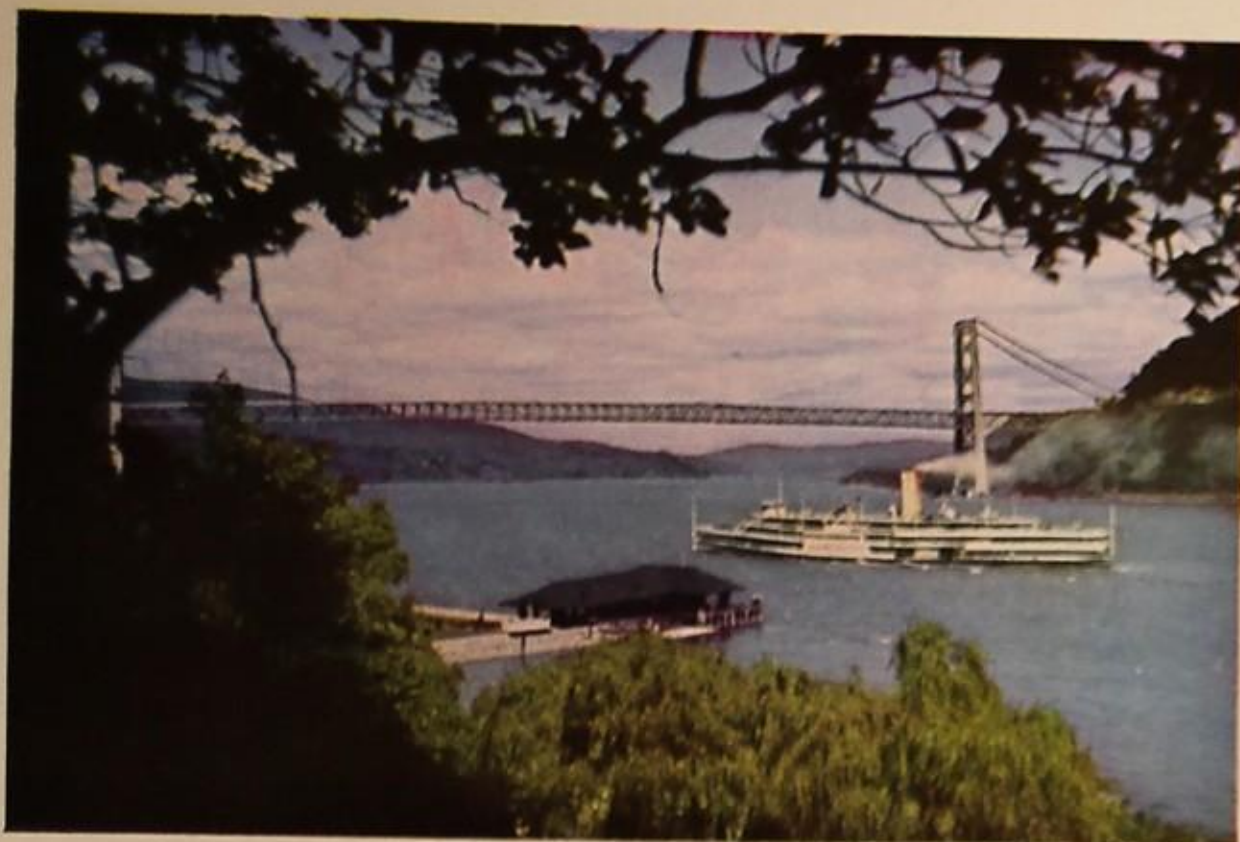

Then when weather forced activities inside, basketball, badminton, tumbling, dancing, and wrestling were on the Physical Education male agenda.

Cadet teacher Miss Fallon, Anne Messick, and instructor Miss Stevens, do a head stand.

Jock Farnsworth and Lowell Strom go after the birdie.

Since Henry Hudson sailed the Half Moon upriver in 1609 travelers have admired the scenery of the Hudson and compared it favorably with the Rhine and other great rivers of the world. Grandeur accompanies the stream throughout its course from a small Adirondack pond, Lake Tear-of-the-Clouds, on the shoulder of Mount Marcy, 300 miles southward past Manhattan Island to the Atlantic Ocean. Since the beginning of America the Hudson has been a busy route for travel. Highways and railroads skirt its shores, ocean freighters, and excursion boats ply its waters and airplanes follow its path.

The commercialness and creativity of our world can be seen in this engineering feat in the closing pages of this 1958 yearbook. Without the generous cooperation of our advertisers this annual would not have been financially possible.

YOU MAKE YEARBOOKS FUN HERE AT PROGRESS

in

"The City of Albany"

Working closely with you has been truly a wonderful experience. In the beginning there was nothing except enthusiasm, ideas and many blank pages. Upon this meager foundation you have built this beautiful memory book. Our work at Progress really is fun . . . because we enjoy, so much, getting to know such splendid faculty members and students as you.
